On September 30, 1947, [redacted] telephoned that he did not want to provoke an argument or get into any difficulty with the Bureau, but that he is rather uneasy about the unfavorable newspaper publicity which has been emanating from the Director with respect to the Benjamin (Bugs) Siegel case and gangster activities in general.

He was asked for specific statements to which he objected and he said he had nothing along that line, but the newspaper publicity on September 30, 1947 with respect to your talk before the FBI National Academy Retraining Session in the local papers played up your remarks with respect to glamorizing Sigal. He said he also had brought back to his mind statements reported by the press on your recent trip to Los Angeles. I pointed out to him that the press had made some inaccurate statements and that you had not directed criticism against any particular local police department.

The attached newspaper clipping appearing in the Washington Post today reflects that Virginia Hill, paramour of the late Benjamin "Bugs" Siegel, is presently recovering from an over dose of sleeping pills.

Considerable newspaper publicity has been given to the previous excessive use of sedatives by Hill. This last attempt appears to be the fourth time Hill has been found in an unconscious condition as a result of excessive use of sleeping pills. You will recall that just prior to Siegel's murder Hill had an argument with him at Las Vegas, Nevada and shortly thereafter was found in a drugged unconscious condition. The next occasion occurred immediately after the Siegel murder while Hill was in France. Shortly after the second attempt, Hill returned to this country and, while residing at her residence at Miami Beach, Florida, again was found in an unconscious and drugged condition.

This is being submitted for your information.

EARLY BACKGROUND

Summary
Benjamin Siegel was born in New York City on February 28, 1906. His parents were Max and Jeannie Siegel, 1719 67th Street, Brooklyn.

Siegel has described himself as a "Betting Commissioner" and "Investment Broker" with an income of $50,000 per year. He stood 5 feet 9 inches tall, was a dapper dresser and weighed 157 pounds.

While a youth in "Hell's Kitchen" in New York, Siegel made kid-gang contacts which later were to prove extremely useful with Frank Costello, Meyer Lansky, Charles "Lucky" Luciano, Joe Adonis, Jacob Shapiro, Louis "Lepke" Buchalter and Abraham "Longie" Zwillman.

CRIMINAL ACTIVITIES IN NEW YORK CITY

During the time that Siegel was in his teens, bootleg racketeering became a major activity for the underworld. Siegel formed an alliance with Meyer Lansky, a boyhood friend, and they formed the "Bugs and Meyer" Gang to convoy liquor between New York and Chicago. Because of the raging fits of temper which Siegel was capable of displaying at the slightest provocation, he became known to his associates as "Bugs", a nick-name which he hated.

In addition to hauling and guarding liquor for other people, Siegel and Lansky also branched out into bootlegging interests of their own. They started running in from England expensive White Horse liquor and they also began muscling into the operations of the "Waxey" Gordon Gang which controlled liquor outlets in Metropolitan New York. Siegel is credited with promoting the infiltration of the "Waxey" Gordon territory which was principally achieved through a series of gangland killings. Following such murders the Bugs and Meyer Mob would take over territory as well as personnel relinquished by the Waxey Gordon Gang. Moe Sedway, who had been an important front man for Waxey Gordon's liquor business because of his legitimate contacts in the hotel and entertainment fields, was taken over by Siegel with the dissolution of the Waxey Gordon Gang just as other assets of that Gang were absorbed. RECORDED

By the time Prohibition was repealed Siegel and Lansky had reached the summit of their New York criminal careers and allied themselves with certain other mobsters becoming known as "The Big Six" or "The Combination". This group included in addition to Siegel and Lansky who took care of bootleg liquor interests, Charles "Lucky" Luciano, who handled prostitution and narcotics, Abe "Longie" Zwillman, who handled gambling and Buchalter and Shapiro who organized the first large-scale kickback and shakedown rackets in legitimate business and industry.

TRANSFER OF OPERATIONS TO CALIFORNIA

Following the repeal of Prohibition, the Siegel-Lansky operations in The Big Six began to lose their former importance and the large distillers and liquor distributing agencies which had been built up during Prohibition were eventually sold by Siegel and his crowd to legitimate and semi-legitimate interests. Siegel left New York for California leaving Lansky in charge of the remaining liquor operations of The Combination. Siegel first operated in California from his sister's home at 721 N. Doheny Drive in Beverly Hills. This sister's husband "Sol" Soloway was taken in as a Siegel mobster. From the beginning of his activities in California, Siegel exchanged money and counsel with The Combination leaders back East.

Among Siegel's early activities in California was the investment of funds in various hotels, restaurants, and real estate. Part of this money came from The Combination and Siegel utilized gangster tactics in muscling in on the profits of other restaurants and night clubs. Siegel was also believed to have handled narcotics during his residence in California. During the war Siegel also took over a legitimate manufacturing plant which he named The Mercury Engineering Company and successfully obtained aircraft war contracts amounting to approximately $20,000 per month. At the end of the war Siegel disposed of the plant and liquidated the assets.

AFFAIRS WITH [REDACTED] VIRGINIA HILL

Siegel's wife left him during their residence in California and later obtained a divorce. Following the split with his wife, Siegel sold his mansion in California and began living in exclusive apartments and hotels. He carried on an open affair [REDACTED] until he grew tired of her and moved from her apartment to the former estate of Rudolph Valentino called The Falcon's Lair, #2 Bella Drive in Beverly Hills, where he took up residence with Virginia Hill.

Virginia Hill apparently had unlimited funds some of which came from three prior marriages and in addition to being a dope addict has been described as vulgar and obscene.

[REDACTED]

Virginia Hill is reputed to have taken an interest in some of Siegel's enterprises during their relationship, [REDACTED]

[redacted] both Siegel and Hill were involved in narcotic and prostitution operations. b7c b7d

Early in June, 1947, Siegel had a violent quarrel with Virginia Hill at which time he allegedly beat her so badly that she still had visible bruises several weeks later. Immediately after the beating she took an overdose of narcotics in a suicide threat and was taken unconscious to the hospital. Upon recovery she immediately arranged to leave for an extended trip to Europe.

Siegel, earlier in his residence in California, had an affair with [redacted] and according to Newsweek Magazine Siegel accompanied [redacted] on a trip to Europe where she introduced him to the most prominent aristocracy of Italy as an "important American". b7c

EXTENSION OF ACTIVITIES TO LAS VEGAS

Among his other activities, Siegel had organized the bookmakers in Southern California and was most anxious to obtain the West Coast franchise for the Continental Race Horse Wire Service owned by James M. Ragan, Sr., in Chicago. [redacted] b7c

[redacted] Siegel then joined the Combination in a fight against Ragan in an effort to take over Ragan's wire service and in this connection he pushed a rival service called Trans-American News.

Following his entry into Las Vegas [redacted] Siegel rapidly expanded his activities to include the operation of night clubs and restaurants. His usual technique was to obtain a cut in the profits through intimidation. b7c

In California Siegel had allied himself with [redacted] and had used this means of extorting money from key figures in the movie industry by threatening to expose their criminal connections [redacted] In 1945, immediately after the end of the war, Siegel [redacted] planned the building of a $3,000,000 hotel in Las Vegas where the principal interest would be a gigantic gambling casino. b7c

Other partners in the Flamingo Hotel project included [redacted] b7c

[redacted] The hotel was completed at a time of acute material shortages despite pressure for veterans' housing and restrictions of the Civilian Production Administration. The gambling casino opened on December 26, 1946, but attendance was disappointing and a second opening night was staged two days later. Siegel had arranged to have a number of movie stars present but despite his activity the project appeared to be a financial failure from the start.

My dear Chief:

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED

DATE 11-22-85 BY SP-7/10/1998

I have received your letter of April 27, 1948, in which you request that I assign Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation to assist you in conducting investigation into the killing of Benjamin "Bugsy" Siegel.

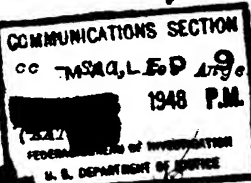

The Federal Bureau of Investigation is authorized to conduct investigation only in cases in which there is a violation of a Federal Statute. From the facts available to me concerning the killing of Siegel, I am unable to find therein any indication of a violation of a Federal Statute within the Bureau's jurisdiction, and, consequently, it is impossible for me to conduct any active investigation of the case.

The facilities of the Bureau's Laboratory and the Identification Division are, of course, available to you for whatever service they may render in this case, and you may be assured that if the Bureau in the course of its regular operations obtains any information relating to the Siegel case, it will be promptly transmitted to you.

Sincerely yours,

Reference is made to the attached communication which was received from Walter Winchell and which reflects information received by him from an unidentified informant to the effect that one [redacted]

[redacted] caused the murder of Benjamin "Bugsy" Siegel, because Siegel took movie actress [redacted] on a week-end trip to Las Vegas, Nevada, during the time Siegel was having an affair with Virginia Hill, notorious Cafe Society habituant, and according to Winchell's informant, [redacted] Handwritten b2

It will be recalled that the Bureau has previously been advised of the association of Siegel and Hill and of Siegel's interest in movie actresses [redacted]. The background of Virginia Hill was fully developed during the Bureau's investigation of her following the report of Former Newspaper Columnist [redacted] to the effect that she had cashed a large check from Former Attorney General Francis Biddle in a Los Angeles night club. During this investigation, it was ascertained that Virginia Hill left her home in Bessemer, Alabama, at the age of 16 and went to Chicago, Illinois, and while dancing at the World's Fair, [redacted] Handwritten b2 b7
 Hill subsequently had many other paramours, including [redacted] and gangsters Joe Adonis, notorious member of the Eastern Criminal Syndicate and Benjamin "Bugsy" Siegel, leading West Coast gangster. Adonis, [redacted] is reported to have considered Hill as merely a "bedroom date", but through him she reportedly came to know Frank Costello and other syndicate leaders. Hill later became Siegel's paramour and lived with him in Los Angeles. [redacted]

[redacted] (62-68739 sec. 3 ser. 81 & 83)

No information was developed in this investigation to indicate that Hill was ever associated with anyone named [redacted] who are leading racketeers in the Chicago area.

It will be recalled that approximately a week before Siegel was murdered he and Hill engaged in a serious argument at the Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas, Nevada, over Siegel's alleged attentions to a cigarette girl [redacted] Handwritten b6 b7

After this altercation, Hill threatened to commit suicide and subsequently took an overdose of sleeping tablets from which she later recovered after a short period of hospitalization. Hill left immediately for Los Angeles after this fracas and later went to New York where she arranged passage to France. At the time of Siegel's death, she was in Paris. Mr. Ladd

One of the theories of Siegel's murder was that Virginia Hill, while in New York en route to France, may have informed Adonis and other members of the syndicate concerning Siegel's actions. However, no factual information was ever developed which would tend to verify that Hill took such action or that Adonis or the syndicate was responsible for Siegel's murder. (62-81518 ser. 461)

CONCLUSION

It appears that Walter Winchell's informant has furnished garbled information and that the reference to [REDACTED] may have been intended to refer to Joe Adonis. It is noted that the attachment bears the notation, "This reads wild". bx

RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended that the Los Angeles Division be advised of the receipt of the above information and directed to furnish the same to the appropriate police department. It is also suggested that no investigation be undertaken in connection with this matter, but that the Los Angeles Division be requested to ascertain if possible from its files the identity of the person who reportedly occupied the penthouse next to Siegel and who furnished the information mentioned above.

If you approve, the attached letter will be sent to the Los Angeles Division.

CRIME SURVEY

MISCELLANEOUS - INFORMATION CONCERNING

Dear Sir:

Rebulet 9-27-48.

A check of Los Angeles files failed to reflect any person who occupied a penthouse at the Chateau Marmont Apartments, 8821 Sunset Boulevard, Hollywood, California, next to that in which BENJAMIN "BUGSY" SIEGEL and VIRGINIA HILL previously resided.

[REDACTED] has advised that there was no adjoining penthouse next to that of VIRGINIA HILL at this apartment house. The only apartment on the same floor as VIRGINIA HILL's penthouse was a very small apartment which has been occupied for many years by [REDACTED]

This apartment is far removed from the penthouse and not within hearing distance. However, the terrace adjoining that of the penthouse is public and available to any apartment house resident or outsider who is desirous of using same. It is possible that any house guest or other person using this terrace could have overheard conversations between SIEGEL and HILL while they were on the terrace of their penthouse.

DEFERRED RECORDING

[REDACTED]

Notwithstanding the recent newspaper publicity given to Beverly Hills public statements that he knows who killed SIEGEL, it is not deemed advisable at this time to furnish the information set out in reference letter to any local law enforcement agency here.

SUBJECT: BENJAMIN "BUGSY" SIEGEL
MISCELLANEOUS - INFORMATION CONCERNING

DATE 12-15 BY SP-9 msp/10

In accordance with the telephonic conversation between Inspector [redacted] of the Bureau and ASAC Belmont of this office, there is forwarded herewith, in the form of a memorandum, information furnished by [redacted] relative to gambling conditions in New Jersey. The attention of the Bureau and the Newark office, which is receiving a copy of this letter, is again directed to the fact that [redacted] furnished this information in confidence. Consequently, the information should be treated in a confidential manner.

Reference is made to my letter of January 7th, entitled as above indicating the possibility that [redacted] was the killer of BUGSY SIEGEL. On January 10, 1949, [redacted] was again informed that this Bureau has not and is not investigating the BUGSY SIEGEL case. It was, however, suggested to him that he may wish to bring this information to the attention of police authorities on the west coast. He advised that he had contemplated doing this and was going to arrange through reliable contacts of his in the New York Police Department to relay this information to reliable authorities in the Los Angeles Police Department. [redacted] pointed out that he realized that none of the information he furnished in this matter pertains to a violation within the jurisdiction of the FBI. Nevertheless, he thought it would be of value to us from the standpoint of general knowledge of criminal conditions. [redacted]

For the further information of the Bureau and the Newark office, on the morning of January 10, 1949, [redacted]

[redacted] personally called to see SAC Scheidt. In substance he advised that his attention had been drawn to the fact that more or less open gambling was going on in the City of Rahway under the auspices of individuals who appeared to be New Yorkers rather than local characters. Because of his faith in the integrity of the FBI, he desired to know whether the FBI could conduct an investigation leading to the cleaning up of the City of Rahway from the standpoint of this gambling. SAC Scheidt informed [redacted] that this matter did not come within the jurisdiction of the FBI and consequently it would not be possible for us to conduct an investigation. He suggested that [redacted] bring this information to the attention of the constituted authorities of the City of Rahway. [redacted]

[REDACTED] He did not elaborate on the extent of the alleged FBI training. However, he advised that once in the past he received an anonymous letter relative to gambling conditions in Rahway and he had passed it on [REDACTED] for appropriate attention, but that nothing had ever been done [REDACTED] Therefore, he did not feel that it would do any good to turn his current information over [REDACTED] He advised that he does contemplate going to [REDACTED] of the State of New Jersey, although he indicated that he likewise was not sure of [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] advised that he would be glad to discuss any further details in this matter with our Newark office should it become necessary in the future. The information concerning the visit of [REDACTED] was telephonically furnished to the Newark office by SAC Scheidt on January 10th. b6 b7C

In connection with the investigation in the case entitled [REDACTED] was FUGITIVE; [REDACTED] VIRGINIA HILL, the Bureau advised by letter dated 10/3/50 that [REDACTED]

On 10/27/50 [REDACTED] during a conversation with ASAC William M. According to [REDACTED] VIRGINIA HILL's brother is a little "war wacky" and he learned that SIEGEL gave his sister quite a beating a night or so before SIEGEL was actually killed and then decided to take care of SIEGEL in his own way.

By letter dated August 27, 1947, this office transmitted three cartridge cases obtained from [redacted] then of the Los Angeles County District Attorney's Office, who had received these cartridge cases from an officer of the Beverly Hills Police Department. It was stated that these cartridge cases were found on the grounds at the scene of the murder of captioned subject in Beverly Hills, California on June 20, 1947. The Laboratory was requested to examine these cartridge cases for possible comparison purposes at a later date with firearms of the same caliber.

By letter dated October 2, 1947, the Bureau advised that an examination had been made of these cartridge cases and it was determined that marks on the cases were not sufficiently distinct for comparison with test specimens from suspected carbines. A few similarities were found between the extractor marks on two cases but they were of such a nature that it was not possible to identify these cases as having been loaded into or extracted from the same weapon. It was stated that it may be possible to identify the extractor marks on these cases from tests of suspected weapons. It was then requested that additional cartridge cases be forwarded to the Laboratory for examination from the scene of this murder and by letter dated January 21, 1948, the Bureau advised that as no additional specimens or test cartridge cases had been received in the Laboratory for comparison in this matter, the three cartridge cases previously examined and temporarily retained in the Laboratory were returned to this office and they were subsequently delivered to the Los Angeles County District Attorney's Office.

The murder weapon in the SIEGEL killing has never been identified. [redacted] in conducting investigation concerning [redacted] while being sought as a Bureau fugitive on an Unlawful Flight to Avoid Prosecution - Murder Charge in which the San Francisco Office was origin, stated that he had received a photostatic copy of a letter [redacted]

[redacted], "Shot from Interstate

There is, as pointed out in a Bureau letter of October 2, 1947, some

Confession of "Bugsy" Siegel Murder

G. I. R. -10✓ b7c

ASAC Earl Brown called from Albany with reference to an inquiry he had received from the Associated Press concerning the above-captioned individual.

Brown stated that [REDACTED]

Brown stated that it appears that [REDACTED] has made confessions to the Syracuse Police to the effect that he had been to church in Syracuse and his conscience bothered him and he wanted to admit that he was the assassinator of "Bugsy" Siegel, who was shot to death in his Beverly Hills, California, home.

ASAC Brown stated that he made no confession or admissions concerning the Siegel case to Special Agent [REDACTED]. The Syracuse Police are cognizant of the fact that the Siegel shooting is a matter of local interest to the Beverly Hills, California, authorities and are in contact with them.

ACTION TAKEN:

(1) Brown was informed that the Bureau is not investigating the "Bugsy" Siegel murder and that this is strictly a Beverly Hills police investigation. 62-8151P-549

(2) Brown was referred to [REDACTED] in Mr. Nichols's office, who advised him that he should answer press inquiries to the effect that the Bureau interviewed [REDACTED] at his request but it was determined that he reported no violations of Federal law to the Bureau. If any inquiries are received concerning the "Bugsy" Siegel shooting, Brown was informed that he should advise the press that this was a Beverly Hills, California, police matter. b7c

He was vague regarding his disposition of the gun or his actions subsequent to the murder.

On January 29, 1954, at 9:00 a.m., [REDACTED] of the Syracuse Police Department, telephonically contacted the Syracuse Resident Agency and advised that [REDACTED] refused to discuss anything further with the police department and had requested that an FBI agent be sent to see him.

Reason for Decision This bulky exhibit consists of photostatic copies of hearings held during 1946 by the Civilian Production Administration, San Francisco, Calif. The hearings pertain to the construction of the Flamingo Hotel, Las Vegas, Nevada of which Benjamin "Bugsy" Siegel had an interest. During 1946 the Bureau initiated an investigation concerning the possible perjured testimony given by Siegel when appeared before the CPA Board. Mr. E. A. Tamm's undated memorandum filed 10-24-46, recommended that investigation into Siegel's possibly committing perjury be discontinued. The Director concurred. It is also noted that Siegel is deceased. In view of these considerations, there appears to be no reason to retain this bulky enclosure.

Special Agent A. E. OSTHOLTHOFF telephoned from the Los Angeles Field Division at 5:30 P.M., August 9, 1946, advising that there is a special investigation being conducted concerning the subject and he is coming to San Francisco either Sunday night or Monday night. The Attorney General has authorized technical and microphone surveillances of this subject.

He is building the Flamingo Hotel, Las Vegas, Nevada, and it is believed that actually this hotel is to be operated by a gambling syndicate as a gambling house, and it is alleged that there is a CPA violation in the construction of this building because the priorities on the building materials are obviously not being made available for the construction of such building at this time. There is an allegation that he received the necessary materials by bribery.

W After this inquiry was begun, the CPA at Washington, D.C., sent out an order stopping construction of the hotel, and SIEGEL, of course, is interested in continuing the construction and he is to be given a hearing in San Francisco on Tuesday before CPA. He will be represented by [REDACTED] from Las Vegas. Two others who probably will be in attendance are [REDACTED] of the Dell Webb Construction Company who have the contract to erect the hotel building. Advice has been received that [REDACTED] is making reservations for SIEGEL and himself at least at the Palace Hotel. b7c

A check should be made through contacts at the Palace Hotel to determine if the reservations have been made and for the exact time and dates. Thereafter, if technical or microphone surveillances become feasible, the Bureau should be phoned for authority to make such installations on SIEGEL. No surveillances of any of these men are desired, and no contact should be had by this office with CPA. The only thing to work on is to determine if contact or microphone surveillances can be made.

ASAC A. E. OSTHOLTHOFF of the Cincinnati Field Division, who is presently at the Los Angeles Field Division on special assignment in connection with the above-captioned case, telephoned at 11:30 AM today from Los Angeles, informing that SIEGEL is proceeding to the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco. He advised this information is not definite and is based merely on a side remark made by SIEGEL in a conversation regarding other matters. He stated it is definite, however, that SIEGEL is leaving Los Angeles and is proceeding to San Francisco by plane at 12:01 this afternoon. He did not know which airline SIEGEL would use. He described SIEGEL as

Age	42	Complexion	tan
Height	5'9"	Appearance	Jewish
Weight	157	Dress	usually wears
Hair	dark, either black or brown, long but well-trimmed		blue suits, Holly-wood shirts with long pointed collars, no hat
Eyes	blue

OSTHOLTHOFF advised SIEGEL was not under full-time surveillance at Los Angeles, but that he was picked up occasionally to determine his contacts and associates. He suggested we provide similar coverage here, in addition to the technical sources previously requested. He stated we should probably cover SIEGEL from the airport to the hotel, in order to determine definitely where he will maintain headquarters. The above information was telephonically relayed to Supervisor [redacted] at 11:45 AM.

Agent OSTHOLTHOFF telephoned from Los Angeles at approximately 12:50 p.m. today making reference to a previous telephone call to ASAC VAN PELT this morning in which he advised ASAC VAN PELT that BENJAMIN SIEGEL was to leave Los Angeles for San Francisco via Western Air Lines at 12:01 p.m. Agent OSTHOLTHOFF stated that agents of the Los Angeles Office have definitely placed SIEGEL on a Western Air Lines plane for San Francisco and that he was due to arrive at the San Francisco Airport at 1:55 p.m. He stated that SIEGEL when departing from Los Angeles was wearing no hat, a brown tweed suit, white sport shirt, dark glasses with tortoise shell rims. He left alone and was carrying a newspaper when he boarded the plane. No baggage was observed by the agents, and apparently same was checked through, and accordingly OSTHOLTHOFF was unable to furnish a description of the baggage. He stated that he believed Agent [REDACTED] was handling the case and requested this information be furnished to Agent [REDACTED] b7c

Mr. OSTHOLTHOFF called from Los Angeles this morning at 9:15 with reference to our conversation last evening. Mr. OSTHOLTHOFF stated he had talked with Supervisor [REDACTED] at the Bureau inquiring as to whether the Bureau desired that we go to [REDACTED] and suggest he might desire to place the witnesses in the Flamingo Hotel hearing today under oath. Mr. OSTHOLTHOFF stated [REDACTED] replied that we should NOT go to [REDACTED]

Mr. OSTHOLTHOFF stated that the fact that VIRGINIA HILL, mistress of SIEGEL, is along on this trip is rather unusual; he stated both SIEGEL and VIRGINIA HILL have been talking about going east sometime in the near future, probably to Chicago or New York City. Mr. OSTHOLTHOFF said that while he doubted SIEGEL would leave this area for the time being, in view of the Flamingo Hotel situation, it might well be that VIRGINIA HILL would go. In this regard he stated that, of course, if SIEGEL left, we should place him on a plane and wire ahead to the proper offices to discreetly cover his contacts, and further if VIRGINIA HILL leaves, we should also place her on a plane and wire ahead to the appropriate offices so that a discreet physical surveillance can be placed on her to determine her activities and contacts, in view of the fact they might be pertinent to this matter.

The above information was immediately furnished to Supervisor [REDACTED]

Mr. OSTHOLTHOFF called from Los Angeles at 4:45 PM today advising that information had been received from a reliable confidential source at Los Angeles that SIEGEL is planning to leave Los Angeles this evening, probably on a 6:00 PM plane, for San Francisco, in order to be in San Francisco tomorrow to attend the CPA hearing in connection with the Flamingo Hotel project.

Mr. OSTHOLTHOFF stated that the Los Angeles Office will endeavor to place SIEGEL on the plane and will call this office as soon as it is known just what plane on what airline he is traveling. Mr. OSTHOLTHOFF stated this office should endeavor to give SIEGEL the same coverage on his visit on this occasion as on his previous visit. In this regard he said there is no information available as to what hotel he will stay in in San Francisco, although he recalled that SIEGEL and members of his group stayed at the St. Francis and Palace Hotels during their last visit.

He stated that in the event microphone coverage is placed, of course the Bureau should be advised, even though the Bureau has given blanket authority to make such coverage.

Mr. OSTHOLTHOFF further stated that information has also been received from a reliable confidential source that an individual named [REDACTED] who is apparently an investigator employed by the CPA from Washington, is supposed to have arrived in San Francisco this morning by Western Airlines plane from Las Vegas and Los Angeles and is presently dictating his report on inquiries made by him at Las Vegas concerning the Flamingo Hotel project. He says that SIEGEL has reportedly indicated to an informant at Las Vegas last night that he was trying to figure out some way to get to [REDACTED] b7c

Further information has also been received from a confidential informant in Los Angeles that Senator McCARRAN may become interested in this matter to the extent that he may endeavor to influence CPA Commissioner [REDACTED] that his decision in connection with this matter should be favorable to SIEGEL. b7c

Mr. OSTHOLTHOFF stated he had proposed to the Bureau that we interview [REDACTED] in connection with the above matter, but that the Bureau has stated this should NOT be done, but that this office should maintain discreet surveillance [REDACTED] not as an investigation, but to supplement our surveillance on SIEGEL. b7c

The Bureau specifically pointed out that, of course, the surveillance [REDACTED] should be most discreet and is to be only a physical surveillance and possibly a check of his incoming and outgoing calls. No microphone or technical surveillances should be placed [REDACTED] b7c

Mr. OSTHOLTHOFF stated there is no description available on [REDACTED] nor is there any information available as to what hotel he may be staying in in San Francisco, but that his whereabouts should be determined and a surveillance commenced as soon as he can be located. b7c

Mr. OSTHOLTHOFF stated he would communicate further with this office as soon as the travel information on SIEGEL is available.
